

MOUNTAIN VIEW BASKETBALL

It's more than a game

Mountain View basketball is more than just 20 regular-season games and then the postseason.

It starts a few short weeks after the previous season ends. There's weightlifting, shooting and various drills. There's also summer tournaments, including the annual week-long getaway to Spokane, Wash., where the Mavs compete in a tourney hosted by national power Gonzaga University.

There's also the various off-the-court activities that buildings bonds between the players.

Certainly, the season is exciting but – at Mountain View – the games are just portion of being part of the team.

TOP: The team poses with its "Honorary Mavs" after a game.

LOWER LEFT: Mavs pose for a photo while helping at a local mission.

LOWER MIDDLE: Marcus Slocum (gold), Ryan Ball (silver), Jason Maughan (bronze) were the winners at the Maverick Olympics.

LOWER RIGHT: Team bowling champs Ethan Secrist and Matt Micone.