SOPHOMORE COACH COURTNEY JARRELL

was born in Tennessee and lived there for 13 years before moving to Utah.

She attended Davis High School, where she played basketball and softball.

Then she attended Utah Valley University. She was on the softball team and graduated with honors with a BS in Mathematics Education. After student teaching at Riverton last year and coaching softball, she took the job as a full time teacher.

COACH ENCE: "Courtney was sort of 'thrown into the fire' as the first year coach, and she responded admirably. One quality that stuck out in my mind was how she instilled the importance of giving all-out effort when you step on the court. Congratulations to Coach Jarrell for continuing the winning tradition of our sophomore basketball team."

Dayna was the first Riverton female basketball player to be named first team all-state. She earned a scholarship and played college basketball at Salt Lake Community College, and then BYU. She recently finished her student teaching and plans to coach and enter the Radiology program at SLCC.
